

Understanding
Patient Data

We need to talk about data:
trust, transparency and talking to the public

HARG Wearables workshop, KCL

23rd July 2018

Dr Natalie Banner
Understanding Patient Data
Wellcome Trust
 @natalie_banner

Insurance bosses buy medical records of all NHS hospital patients

By Laura Donnelly, Health Correspondent

THE medical records of every NHS hospital patient in the country have been sold to insurers. The Daily Telegraph

by the Staple Inn Actuarial Society – a major organisation for UK insurers – details how it was achieved, covering

Your medical data is for sale, and there's nothing you can do about it

NHS England scraps controversial Care.data programme

Why Google DeepMind wants your medical records

Hacker selling 655,000 medical records on the Dark Web

Boots, Tesco and Superdrug to get access to NHS medical records

AI has no place in the NHS if patient privacy isn't assured

Free health apps laugh in the face of privacy, sell your wheezing data

How Private Is Your Personal Health Data?

The lesson from the NHS Care.data row: You can't keep privacy issues private any more

Revealed: Google AI has access to huge haul of NHS patient data

“What we have not done is take the public with us in these discussions, and we really need their views....We need to have the public with us on it, otherwise they will ...be unwilling to share [data] with the people to whom they turn for care. That is the last thing we want to happen in our health service”

Dame Fiona Caldicott, National Data Guardian

